System Overview

Italy has a partially centralised education system managed by the Ministero dell'Istruzione e del Merito (MIM). There is no standalone health education subject in Italian schools. Health education is delivered through: (1) Educazione civica (Civic Education — mandatory since 2019, includes health as a theme), (2) Biologia (Biology — primary carrier for sexual and physical health content), and (3) optional school projects. The Meloni government (from 2022) has taken a conservative stance on sexuality education, opposing gender theory and emphasising traditional family values. The ISS (Istituto Superiore di Sanità) is the key health data and policy body.
