

	PSCD YEAR 6 – LEVEL 5
	Subject Focus: Intrapersonal and Interpersonal awareness
1	I can suggest ideas to help the group to formulate the ground rules.
2	I can list the consequences for self and others if ground rules are not obeyed.
3	I can talk about my personal qualities and talents and list one or more personal qualities I want to improve on.
4	I can discuss what can affect wellbeing and resilience (e.g. life changes, change of school, exams, relationships and disappointments).
5	I can explain how the media and social media impacts the way people think about themselves and express themselves (eg. body image, physical and mental health).
6	I can discuss why people might feel differently about the same situation or circumstance.
6	I can explain how our feelings affect the way we behave and how our behaviour affects others' feelings (eg. death of a pet)
7	I can talk about empathy and why this helps relationships grow.
8	I can describe what is a conflict, disagreement or argument and why it happens.
9	I can explain why conflicts, disagreements or arguments bring out a lot of intense emotions in people.
10	I can discuss the skills I need to be able to listen attentively to different perspectives and viewpoints.
11	I can list the 6 steps I need to adopt when I quarrel or argue with my caregivers, siblings and friends.
12	I can describe the difference between bullying and conflict.
13	I can propose simple strategies to help build resilience to negative opinions, judgments and comments.
14	I can describe the different types of bullying, its negative effects and why it is always wrong.
15	I can explain the difference between acting assertively, passively or aggressively and list the advantages of being assertive
16	I can state where I can get support, if necessary, in different situations and circumstances (eg. a trusted adult at home, a guidance or PSCD teacher).
17	I can list the steps necessary to make a good decision (choosing friends/time management/consumer decisions/environmental decisions).
18	I can list the rights and duties I have, at home, school and within the community.

19	I can talk about voting, why is it important in a democratic society and how voting takes place.
20	I can explain why student school councils are important.
21	I can identify the different skills (eg. leadership, communication, teamwork, organization and public speaking) that student school council foster in committee members.
22	I can explain what prejudice is and list down ways of how I can include and/or show respect to others (elderly, fellow students, relatives, foreigners, younger children, anyone different from me in one way or another)
	Subject Focus: Career Exploration and Planning
23	I can identify my personal learning styles and how to put them into practices.
24	I can identify the skills required when choosing a new subject.
25	I can explain what and who influences my attitudes and values in relation to learning, work and equality of opportunity.
26	I can discuss stereotyped and misrepresented images of people, careers and work.
27	I can explain why different types and patterns of work and careers (employment, self-employment, voluntary work and other types of employment) are important for the person and the community at large.
28	I can make a list of the things I can do to contribute to my home, school community, town or village, country and specific places or groups I frequent.
	Subject Focus: Health, Safety and Well Being
29	I can discuss how the choices I make affect my health and well-being (For example diet, sleep, activities, time management).
30	I can explain why it is important that I start taking increased responsibility for my own physical health(eg. personal hygiene, sun safety, self examinations and others).
31	I can talk about the importance of, and strategies for, maintaining a balance between school, leisure, exercise, and online activities.
32	I can list who, what and how I might be influenced in the choices I make in relation to my health and well-being.
33	I can describe the concept of privacy and safety in both an offline and online world.
34	I can show what information I should give or not give to online persons which I don't know.
35	I am able to talk about ways on how to protect myself online.
36	I can talk about the consequences of playing games which are not age appropriate.

37	I can recognize the different ratings of games (PEGI) and their significance.
38	I can talk about the different ways of dealing with online and offline peer pressure.
39	I can distinguish between reliable and unreliable sites/information online.
40	I can indicate what different online domains refer to.
41	I can list down the dangers of smoking tobacco or/and vape.
42	I can discuss what I and others can do to show they love or care for someone.
43	I can speak about different kinds of families.
44	I can explain the physical and sexual changes taking place in my body.
45	I can discuss why changes in the body affect one's moods and feelings.
46	I can describe the similarities and differences between different sexes.
47	I can talk about the effect of the media on our perception of our physical image.
48	I can explain why different people are attracted to same sex people or opposite sex people.
49	I can distinguish between healthy and unhealthy food.
50	I discuss who and what influences my decisions about eating a balanced diet and strategies I can adopt to manage eating choices.
51	I can recognize the different stages of pregnancy and inception.
52	I can explain the different stages of the development of the embryo.
53	I can talk why it is important for both parents or/and caregivers to love, care and take responsibility of a new baby.
54	I can give good solutions and actions that can be taken when discussing situations in which one feels uncomfortable or unsafe.
55	I can speak about different types of risks in different situations and places and list strategies to take care of myself and others in such situations.
56	I recognize the importance of the Global Goals for Sustainable Development, in particular Climate Action, Life below Water, Life on Land and Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions.
57	I can discuss ways of how I can be a responsible consumer.
58	I can talk about the rights of animals and the responsibilities of pet owners, farmers, fishermen and the general public.
59	I can speak about threats to domestic and wild animals, locally and abroad, and what one can do to help animals.
60	I can list the positive and negative aspects of change and transition to a new school and can list ideas of how to adjust to a new learning environment.