System Overview

Germany has a strictly decentralised education system (Bildungshoheit der Länder). Each of the 16 federal states (Bundesländer) has its own Ministry of Education and its own curriculum — there is no single national health education programme. The KMK (Standing Conference of the Ministers of Education) coordinates through non-binding recommendations. The BZgA (Federal Centre for Health Education) provides national teaching materials and campaigns. Health education is delivered as a cross-curricular theme (Querschnittsaufgabe), primarily through Biology (Biologie), Physical Education (Sport), Ethics/Religion (Ethik/Religion), and home economics subjects. Sex education (Sexualerziehung) is mandatory in all 16 Länder based on a 1977 Constitutional Court ruling.

 Key note: Documents listed below cover the federal level (KMK, BZgA) and selected reference Länder (Berlin as progressive model; Bavaria as conservative model). For the full legal text of any specific Land, consult the relevant Ministry of Education website.
